

I really did dream of a giraffe in my backyard, but alas, it was only a fleeting image, not hundreds of lines, and no man from Purlock interrupted on business.