

Alice Hatcher's debut novel The Wonder That Was Ours, winner of Dzanc Books' 2017 Fiction Prize, was long-listed for the Center of Fiction's 2018 First Novel Prize, won a 2019 Eric Hoffer New Horizons Award, and won second place in the Friends of American Writers 2019 Literary Award competition. Her short stories, poetry, and essays have appeared in Alaska Quarterly Review, The Beloit Fiction Journal, Fiction International, Lascaux Review, Fourth Genre, Cagibi, Chautauqua, and other journals. Her work can be found at www.alice-hatcher.com.